Emmanuel Emmaus

From the Community Lay Director

Dear Community,

What if...we surrender all our moments to the Holy Spirit? Why not? What do we have to lose? What if we decide to take self out of the equation and give permission to the Holy Spirit to make all our decisions for us? It is the job of the Holy Spirit to help us discover the peace of God and to reconnect to the Source!

Do you remember the fable of The Little Red Hen? It was an old Russian folk tale that was designed to teach children the value of having a solid work ethic. In the tale, The Little Red Hen finds some wheat grain; and, she has the idea to turn it into bread. She asks for help from the other farm animals to plant the wheat so that eventually it could grow to harvest and be ground into flour to become bread. The dog, the cat and the rat all refused to help her throughout the fable, so The Little Red Hen responded repeatedly, "Then, I will just do it myself!"

The truth of the matter is that the entire world can desert us; and, still we would find the Holy Spirit present and willing to do the heavy lifting on our behalf. We do not have to just do it our self!

So, today is a good day to obey God whether we want to or not.

How do we pull this off?

For starters, when we feel that blood pressure beginning to shoot up, we can ask ourselves: If I had peace right now, what would it look like? You fill in the blank. What does a person of peace look like? Why not model it?

Finally, Jesus has the last word as always, "If you love me, keep my commands. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another advocate to help you and be with you forever— the Spirit of truth. The world cannot accept him, because it neither sees him nor knows him. But you know him, for he lives with you and will be in you. I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you. Before long, the world will not see me anymore, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live (John 14:15-19 NIV)."

DeColores,

Angela Sowell
